I R E,

T O U S mes Ouvrages appartiennent à VOSTRE MAJESTE' par un droit si absolu , que je n'ay pas à deliberer s'ils meritent de luy estre offerts. Ils sont à Elle tels qu'ils puissent estre ; & j'oze dire mesme avant que d'estre , puisque je ne les conçois que pour servir à ses Nobles divertissemens , à sa magnificence Royale , & à la felicité de son Regne. C'est sur ce principe que je mets BELLEROPHON à ses pieds : C'estoit un Heros chery du Ciel , qui couronna ses grands Exploits par la défaite d'un Monstre de trois Especes différentes , & par le repos d'une partie considérable de la Terre : Mais ce rayon de ressemblance , avec la gloire de VOSTRE MAJESTE' n'excuseroit pas la temerité d'un Ouvrage si chetif , si mes obligations ne le rendoient indispensable. Agréez, SIRE, de les rappeler un moment dans Vostre memoire , & VOSTRE MAJESTE' verra que luy devant tout , Elle est engagée par ses bienfaits à ne dédaigner pas les plus foibles marques de la profonde reconnoissance avec laquelle je suis ,

SIRE,

DE VOSTRE MAJESTE' ,

The musical score consists of 13 staves. The first seven staves are relatively simple, featuring single notes and rests. The eighth and ninth staves are more complex, with the eighth staff containing a series of notes with diamond-shaped ornaments above them. The tenth and eleventh staves continue with similar notation. The twelfth and thirteenth staves also feature notes with diamond-shaped ornaments. The notation includes various clefs (treble and bass), and some staves have a 'W' or 'C' marking above them. The overall style is that of a historical musical manuscript.

The Prologue section consists of five staves of music. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The music is written in a style characteristic of 19th-century piano literature, featuring a mix of eighth and sixteenth notes. The second and third staves continue the melodic and harmonic development. The fourth staff includes a trill (tr) above a note. The fifth staff concludes the section with a final cadence. There are some handwritten annotations, including a '6' and a '5' above notes in the fifth staff.

The Minuet for the Bergers section consists of five staves of music. It is written in 3/4 time and features a key signature of one flat. The first staff starts with a treble clef and a 3/4 time signature. The music is characterized by a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the right hand and a more melodic line in the left hand. Trills (tr) are used as ornaments above several notes. The second and third staves continue the piece, maintaining the rhythmic and melodic motifs. The fourth and fifth staves conclude the minuet with a final cadence. There are some handwritten annotations, including a '3' above notes in the fifth staff.

Vivo.

The first system of the musical score consists of five staves. The top staff is in treble clef and contains the melody, starting with a treble clef, a 3/4 time signature, and a 'Vivo.' marking. The subsequent four staves are in bass clef and provide accompaniment. The music is written in a style typical of 18th-century French opera, with frequent use of slurs and dynamic markings.

Two empty musical staves, consisting of two five-line staves each, positioned between the first and second systems of music.

The second system of the musical score consists of five staves. The top staff is in treble clef and continues the melody from the first system. The subsequent four staves are in bass clef and continue the accompaniment. The notation includes various rhythmic values, accidentals, and phrasing slurs.

Two empty musical staves, consisting of two five-line staves each, positioned at the bottom of the page.

BELLEROPHON,

The first system of the musical score consists of five staves. The top staff is in treble clef and contains a melodic line with various note values and rests. The second staff is in alto clef, the third in tenor clef, and the fourth in bass clef, all containing accompaniment. The fifth staff is in bass clef and contains a lower melodic line. The system concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

A set of five empty musical staves, likely representing a continuation of the score or a placeholder for another system.

The second system of the musical score consists of five staves. The top staff is in treble clef and contains a melodic line. The second staff is in alto clef, the third in tenor clef, and the fourth in bass clef, all containing accompaniment. The fifth staff is in bass clef and contains a lower melodic line. The system concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

A set of five empty musical staves, likely representing a continuation of the score or a placeholder for another system.

SCÈNE V.

LE ROY, BELLEROPHON, PHILONOE, SACRIFICATEUR,
MINISTRES DU TEMPLE, CHOEUR DE PEUPLE.

LA MARCHE DU SACRIFICE.

The musical score consists of ten staves of music. The first five staves are grouped together, and the last five are grouped together. Each staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a time signature of 2/4. The notation includes various rhythmic values such as eighth and sixteenth notes, rests, and dynamic markings like 'p' (piano) and 'c' (crescendo). The music is a march, characterized by its steady 2/4 rhythm and repetitive melodic patterns. The first five staves feature a complex interplay of notes, while the second five staves appear to be more rhythmic accompaniment or a different instrumental part, with some staves showing repeated note patterns.

BELLEROPHON,

CHOEUR DE PEUPLE.

First vocal staff with treble clef, 2/4 time signature, and a key signature of one flat. The melody begins with a quarter note G4, followed by a dotted quarter note A4, and continues with a series of eighth and quarter notes.

PRELUDE.

The first system of the musical score consists of five staves. The top staff is a vocal line in G-clef with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. It contains several measures of music with notes, rests, and accidentals. The second staff is a piano accompaniment in C-clef with a bass clef. The third and fourth staves are also piano accompaniment parts in C-clef with bass clefs. The fifth staff is a bass line in F-clef with a bass clef. The music is written in a style characteristic of 18th-century French opera.

Two empty musical staves, consisting of five lines each, positioned between the first and second systems of the score.

FIN DU QUATRIÈME ACTE.

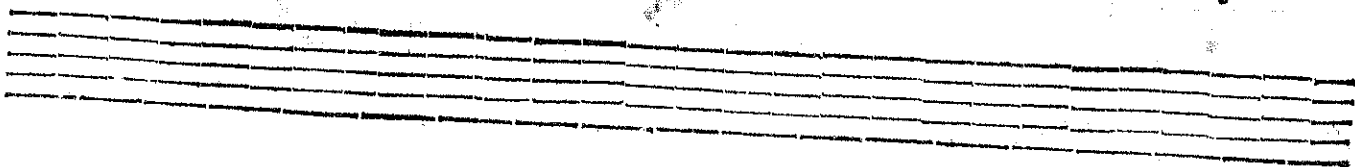

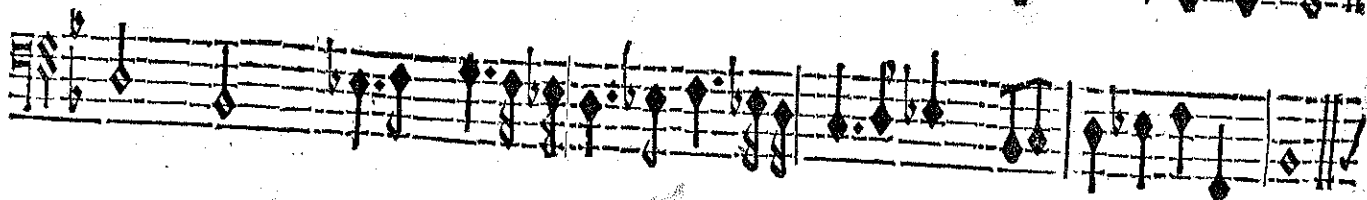

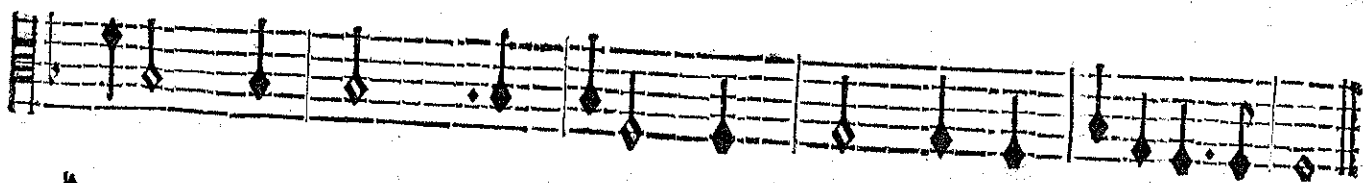

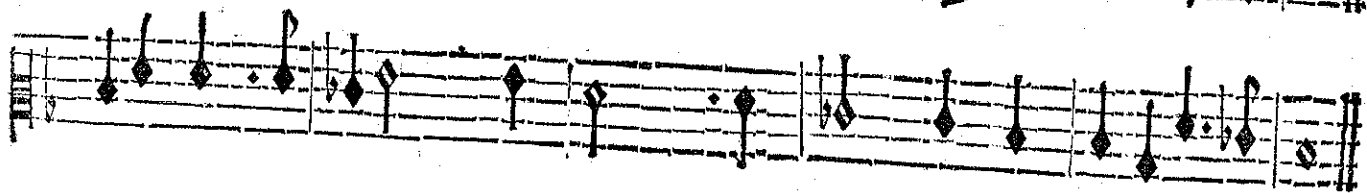

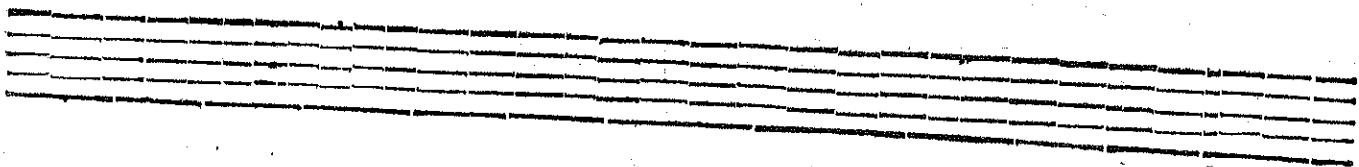

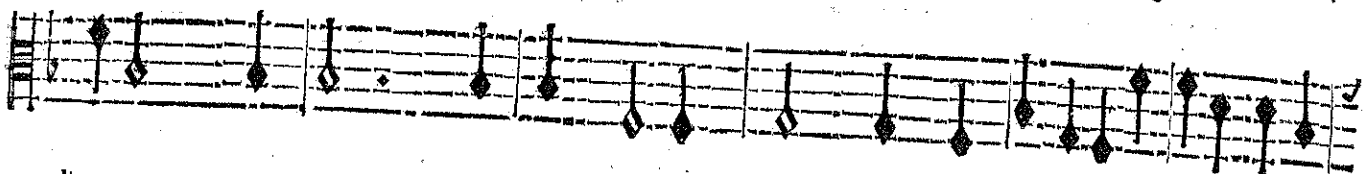

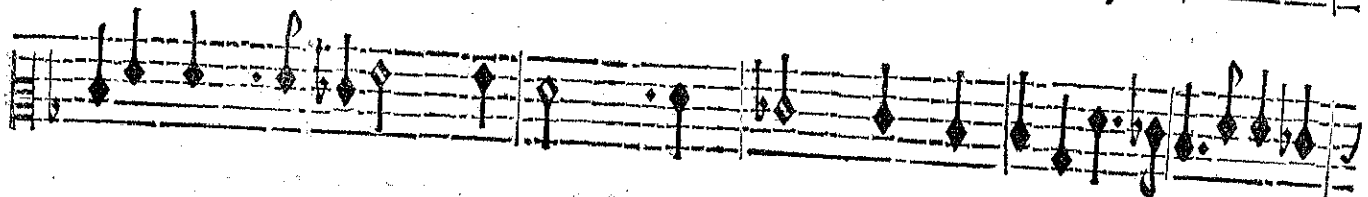

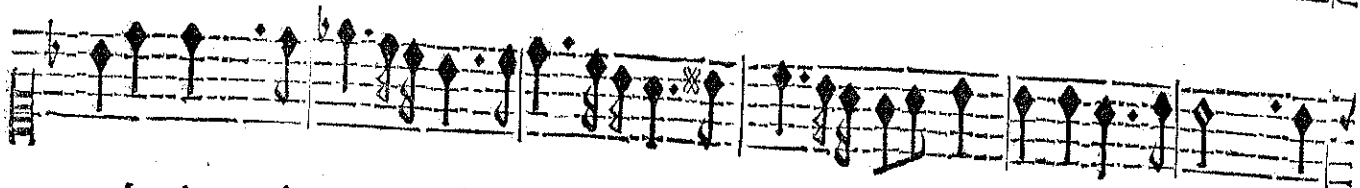

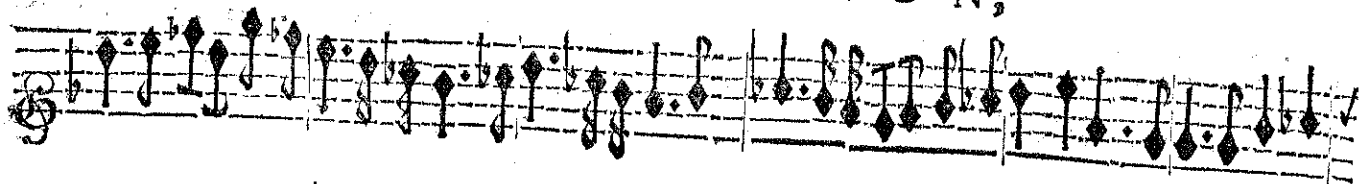

ACTE CINQUIÈME.

SCÈNE PREMIÈRE.

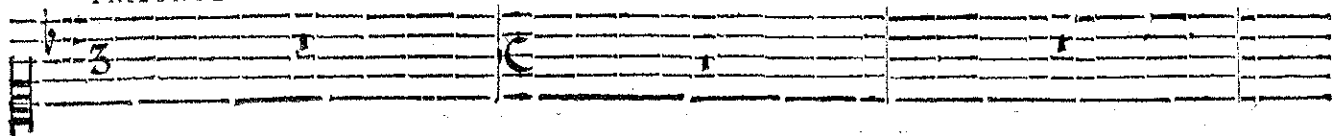

A musical score for a prelude, consisting of ten staves. The first staff is a treble clef with a 2/4 time signature and a key signature of one flat. The word "PRELUDE." is written below the first staff. The subsequent staves are for various instruments, including a second treble clef, a bass clef, and a double bass clef. The music is written in a style typical of 18th-century French opera, featuring a mix of eighth and sixteenth notes, rests, and dynamic markings like 'p' and 'f'. There are some markings like 'x' on the staves, possibly indicating specific performance techniques or corrections. The score ends with a double bar line and a fermata.
